

State 3 key differences between a resume and a CV.

1. Resume summarizes your qualification and skills but CV elaborates your entire professional career/history.
2. Resume is better when you are having 0-1 year of experience but in CV you should at least have more than 2 years of experience.
3. Resume are used for applying jobs in various sectors on current and relevant experiences to match the specific job requirements but in CV Used for academic, research, or certain international positions, needed a full career history.

Create a structure of your resume

Name and Contact details Along with linkedin and portfolio link
Projects with background information
Education with grades
Skills and soft skills
Awards or Achievements